By Staff Correspondant

Jenkins, Ky.,—One man Killed and Four others injured, three perhaps Fatally, when driver lost control of Car on Mountain. About three O'clock Sunday morning residents of Jenkins were awakened by the constant sounding of a motor horn. Upon investigation it was found that a car had gone over the mountain at a sharp curve on the road and five men, all from Kona, this County, had been thrown down the mountain side. The car had stopped in such a position that there was pressure from something that sounded the horn. Mr. Ermin Eckles was instantly killed. Messrs Hall and Bates were so badly injured that recovery seems doubtful. Mr. Banks was badly injured and Mr. Henry Potter Jr., was cut and painfully bruised but not seriously injured. SUMMER SALES SEASON OFFERS OPPORTUNITIES TO TRADING PUBLIC

Of late years it has grown to be a custom for merchants to put on reduced prices sales about this time of the summer. This is to give them a chance to move a large part of their stock and get ready for the fall supply of goods; also, it enables them to raise the money with which to pay for the new supply; and that is an important item in any business, no matter how strong financially.

Beginning Saturday, a number of merchants here and at other towns in the county, will start their annual clean-up sales. Now is a mighty good time to "lay in" a supply of merchandise, if prices mean anything to the buyer. The Mountain Eagle has been printing bills and circulars for years, but never before have there been such good bargains offered as in the batch of bills just printed.

To start the list, Mullins' Department Store of Whitesburg is starting a 15-day Annual Slaughter, announced by a double-spread. This firm does not believe in fake advertising. It gives a real bargains when it says so.

Another firm to put out a double-page spread this week is Ward's Cash Store of Neon. Elbert Ward started a few years ago to build up a mercantile business by dealing fairly with his customers, and he has been successful to a dgree pleasantly surprising.

The New York Bargain Store of Neon and the Peoples Store of Blackey are two firms to circulate page bills this week, both offering real bargains. Both are selling merchandise that is fresh from the market.

The Bentley Grocery company of Whitesburg is another firm to put on a special sale, beginning today. J. L. Bentley, a local man, had faith in the grocery business, and that faith has been justified, for he is successfully selling right along, and at rock-bottom prices. A. J. Arrington of Neon is associated with him. Mr. Arrington is also putting on a special sale of groceries this week.

The Kyva Motor company of Whitesburg and Millstone is putting on a tire bargain sale, starting Saturday. A mighty good time to shoe the old boat.

Lewis Brothers are closing out a part of their line of goods in Lewis Block building, next to the postoffice, and many bargains can be found there.

HEALTH OFFICERS WILL TEST WATER

Dr. R. E. May, director of the public health work in this county, ask that all wells and springs that show evidence of receiving surface water during the heavy rains recently, be reported to the health department. Tests will be made, and if the waters shows contamination, it will be chlorinated. This is important, and should not be neglected, because there is always danger of typhoid and other diseases when surface water gets into the drinking supply.

TWO OFFICERS DIE IN HARLAN

A dispute over wheather an automobile would be allowed to travel on the fresh concrete in a Harlan county road led to the death of Floyd Ball, sheriff of that county, and John Hensley, a deputy.

Three or four men, said to be drinking, attempted to break through and travel on the newly laid concrete. The guard could not stop them, but called the sheriff. As soon as the sheriff approached the car, which had left the road, the men opened fire on him.

There have been some arrests made in the case, but the full information has not yet reached here.

Car Goes Over Bank At End Of Concrete Wednesday a. m.

M. C. EDWARDS INJURED

An unknown man was killed Wednesday morning at three o-'clock when the automobile he was driving went over the bank at the end of the concrete at Seco.

M. C. Edwards, owner of the car, is seriously injured. He is in the Seco hospital, where grave doubts are held for his life. He is suffering of injuries to the skull and chest.

Edwards, who lives at Hazard states that as he left Harlan early in the night, he picked up the young man, who wanted to come to Letcher county. He did not know the stranger's name.

The unknown man asked to be allowed to drive the car, and somewhere near Jenkins he was given the wheel. The driving was all right till the time of the accident. A heavy fog hung over the road at Seco, and the car went straight from the concrete into the big hole on the upper side of the road there. The steering wheel appears to have caught the driver in the breast, crushing the life out of him.

No trace has been found of any connection that might lead to the identity of the dead boy. He was of medium height, poorly dressed, and wore his hair closely clipped. It was just beginning to grow out. He claimed to know the road from Jenkins to Whitesburg, and to have folks somewhere near here. There were no papers in his pockets that would give a clue to his indentity.

Edwards' home is in Hazard. He was formerly employed by the Kentucky and West Virginia Power company, and was in Harlan in the interest of a new job.

A BUSINESS CREED

Elbert Hubbard once wrote It has been printed and reprinted It has ben printed and re-printed the world over, but there can be no harm in running it again in The Mountain Eagle. Here it is:

"I believe in myself.

"I believe in the goods I sell.

"I believe in the firm for whom I work.

"I believe in my colleagues and helpers.

"I believe in American Business Methods.

"I believe in producers, creators, manufacturers, distributors and in all industrial workers of the world who have a job, and hold it down.

"I believe that Truth is an asset.

"I believe in good cheer and in good health, and I recognize the fact that the first requisite in success is not to achieve the dollar, but to confer a benefit, and that the reward will come automatically and usually as a matter of course.

"I believe in sunshine, fresh air, spinach, applesauce, laughter, buttermilk, babies, bombazine, and chiffon, always remembering that the greatest word in the English language is "Sufficiency."

"I believe that when I make a sale I make friend.

"And I believe that when I part with a man I must do it in such a way that when he sees me again he will be glad—and so will I.

"I believe in the hands that work, in the brains that think, and in the hearts that love.

"Amen, and Amen."

BIRTHDAY PARTY ON LINE FORK

By Katie Holcomb

A birthday party was held at he home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Holcomb Wednesday of last week. Several of my friends, children and one sister were present. These were as follows;

Mrs. D. S. Blair, a beloved sister, and her son of Charlie Blair; Jimmy Caudill, son of Cro C. Caudill; Douglas Holcomb, J. E. Holcomb and H. T. Holcomb, all my sons; others were, Judie Holcomb, Gothel Holcomb, Kelly B. Holcomb, W. J. Holcomb, Benson Holcomb, L. Holcomb and Jim Ratiff. All had a good time.

I am only trusting in the Lord that I may see many more birthdays as happy as the past. I was 65 years old. After dinner we went down to Kingdon Come School, where we attended a picnic. They had speaking, singing, and all kinds of contest. Several prizes were given, also a big dinner was set on the ground for refreshments. Mr. Hiram Huff, who lives at Cumberland, came over Wednesday morning in a truck and brought melons and fruit on ice and gave them free. Everybody wants to thank him for his kindness. I met with many of my friends I would not have got to see if Ihad not gone. I enjoyed going very much. I hope to meet that many more several times. From my friends I received several birthday presents.

Corn crops and truck patches are fine on Line Fork.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Frakes were here for the Fourth.

SORE
Could Not Rest

Mrs. J. H. Nichols, who lives at 513 Elm Tree Lane, Lexington, Ky., says:

"Some few years ago, my health was bad. I had very severe pains in my sides. My nerves were in a terrible condition. I could not rest.

"The lower part of my body was very sore. I did not feel like eating, and did not sleep well at all at nights.

"A friend of mine recommended Cardui. I began taking it and saw quite an improvement in my condition. I kept it up until I felt strong and well."

About a year ago, Mrs. Nichols says, she found herself in a nervous, run-down condition. "I took Cardui again," she adds, "and it helped me wonderfully. It is a splendid tonic."

Cardui is a mild, medicinal tonic, made from purely vegetable ingredients.

N. & N. EMPLOYEES TO GET PENSION

The first pension plan ever perfected in this country which will be paid for and operated by a body of employees, is incorporated in the contract made June 26 by the Louisville and Nashville Veterans' Club with the Inter-Southern Life Insurance Co., of Louisville, Kentucky. The premium involved in this pension plan will probably be the largest ever paid in any single insurance transaction, according to W. W. Moore, Executive Vice President who represented the Inter-Southern in the negotiations.

This announcement comes as the results of years of effort on the part of employees of the L. & N. Railroad to provide a pension fund supplementary to that already granted them by the railroad. Many difficulties were encountered, and from time to time efforts to devise a plan were dropped in discouragement, The succesful plan was developed by the Inter-Southern Life Insurance Company.

Every one of the nearly 50,000 employees of the L. & N. Railroad are eligible to participate in the plan, which offers monthly payments of from $25.00 to $100.00 to those who are disabled through illness or accident or who, after reaching the age of 65, retire from active service. Because of the great number of people concerned, the plan assumes wholesale proportions and, therefore, offers much greater annuity benefits than could be secured individually from a life insurance company.

Every detail of the plan has been carefully studied and pronounced sound and practicable by highest actuarial pension authorities and is now ready to be offered to the L. & N. employees. As countless plan of this nature, without success, it is believed that the pension plan of the L. & N. employees will be used as a model by other employee groups that seek similar benefits.

The executive unit of the Pension Committe of the Louisville and Nashville Veteran's Club is composed of S. F. Arn, Montgomery, Ala., chairman; C. C. Regan, Covington, Ky.; J. E. Greathouse, William A. Elwell and J. P. Marrillia of Louisville.

NORTHERN LIGHTS ARE SEEN HERE

Letcher county folks who were fortunate enought to be noticing the sky at about 10 o'clock Saturday night were rewarded by seeing the aurora borealis, or northern lights, which were cast ing brilliant streamers of lignt across the heavens.

The northern lights are often seen as far south as Kentucky in winter, but are seldom strong enought to be plainly visible in this vicinity in July.

ATLANTA

with its residence and industrial suburbs has about 300,000 inhabitants. It combines the charm of the old South with the vigor and enterprise of the new. Though considered the center of the southeast, Atlanta really is west of Detroit. It is more than 1,000 ft. above sea level, the highest large city east of Denver.

Atlanta is the great distributing point of the Southeast, and the headquarters of several hundred corporations. It is the home of the Georgia School of Technology, Emory University, Oglethorpe University, Agnes Scott College, and several other institutions of higher learning. For the past 18 years, each spring the Metropolitan Grand Opera Company has presented in Atlanta a week of opera, complete in every way, with 7 performances each season. Atlanta is the great golf center of the South, with 9 golf courses, including East Lake and Druid Hills, where Bobby Jones learned the game.

The residential suburbs of Atlanta, stretching far out the well paved roads to the great country estates, are among the most beautiful in America. Stone Mountain, the great granite monolith upon which is being carved the world's most gigantic group of statuary, a memorial to the Confederate Soldier, is 16 miles from Atlanta.

Every winter, more and more tourists are breaking the journey to or from Florida by a stay in Atlanta, whose climate offers a happy medium between that of the far south and the north.

What the "OLD RELIABLE" means to ATLANTA

The L. & N. R. R. has played an important role in the development of the Atlanta territory since its lines entered Atlanta nearly 25 years ago.

It now operates 216 miles of its lines in the State and an average of ten passenger and fourteen freight trains serve Atlanta daily.

Of the produce delivered to Atlanta proper, 87½ is handled from L. & N. tracks through its large produce building which is one of the largest of its kind in the country and houses practically all of the city's produce dealers.

The L. & N. pays directly and participates in the payment of salaries of about 1,400 citizens of Atlanta whose L. & N. paid salaries total nearly $1,000,000 annually.

PARENTS WARNED TO GET INTERESTED

In getting your children immunized against Diphtheria before winter, the time when this dreaded disease is most prevalent. Go to you doctor now, or come to the Health Department, because it takes from six weeks to four or five months, after the treatment is given, before immunity is established.

The Health Department has on hands at this time several bottles of Toxin Anti-Toxin, the only FREE Toxin Anti-Toxin available at the present time, or that will be available, unless some unexpected provisions are made by which we may obtain it as we did the year previous.

I insist on the parents having their children get the benefit of what we have on hand, and while most of the children in school have ben immunized already, there are a number of pre-school children who are unprotected, and it is the young ones that are more liable to the disease anyway, especially age six months to two years.

The Department will devote all day Friday July 20, to this work, if the mothers will bring or send the little fellows to the office on that day. We hope you will realize the importance of this matter, and be on hands on that day.

Sincerely Yours,
R. E. MAY, Director

CLUMBERLAND FALLS —KENTUCKY'S NIAGARA

Buried in a wilderness of scenic splendor, remote from highways and railways, having never been seen by more than a small fraction of our citizens, the above picture is a splendid view of Kentucky's Niagara, the magnificent Cumberland Falls. This gorgeous cataract is located at the toe of a great horseshoe bend on Cumberland River in the mountains of Whitley county, Kentucky. The river above the Falls flows peacefully to where it begins to form the rapids, thence plunging madly over the precipice a sheer seventy foot drop to fight its way through a boulder choked gorge on its westward journey through the state.

This waterfall so violently churning the waters below, forms a mist, upon which the sunbeams, playing by day, make ever changing rainbows to bend and arch to the will of the gentle breezes, and by night, with the light of a clear moon, a phenomina is visible, the creation of America's only moonbow.

Kentucky can indeed be grateful for this great gift of nature, a gem in the heart of such beautiful primitive mountain scenery as only the Great Architect can fashion. The question of the wonderful cataract being sacrificed for the development of hydroelectric energy has long no other places where this industry could be developed, it might be considered but with so many other potential water power sities which are available in the many mountain streams of Kentucky, it is nothing less than madness to think of despoiling such a natural wonder; especially when Kentucky is awakening to the value of her scenic beauty spots from the point of tourist attraction.

"I love thy rocks and rills" is being sung in every public building in our glorious nation today; but do we love our rocks and rills when the commercialization of Clumberland Falls is even contemplated?

With the heavily traveled Dixie Highway to the east, and the Cincinnati Lookout Mountain Air-line to the west, a modern highway leading from one to the other, crossing the river at Cumberland Falls, would form an attraction for tourists from all over America that would mean much to Kentucky towards building the State.
